

THE U-BOAT WAR IS A BIG GERMAN VICTORY

VON TIRPITZ MEMOIRS

By ALFRED VON TIRPITZ
Grand Admiral of the German Navy.

From the first it was evident that our U-boat warfare would bring us into conflict with the United States. We had pursued a proper policy, however, it would not necessarily have come to war.

That is why I was against launching the submarine campaign before the United States had been given a chance to make a withdrawal of the fact when we did actually begin our submarine warfare.

We should also have made clear the fact that our U-boat war was not a matter of reprisal against England for her starvation policy, a point which we were always emphasizing. But we were screaming a cry which clearly and indisputably resulted from the maritime law which England herself had created at the expense of her allies.

The new weapon could not be adapted to standards which held for the period of sailing ships of the years ago, but had a right to new standards. Does anyone entertain a doubt that in the future other nations who have fighting for their existence will, like us, make use of the U-boat weapon even if international law forbids it?

WILSON FORCED TO WACK DE-CLARATIONS.
In the early days of the war we would have refused America's demands firmly but courteously without making a break. These demands were acquiesced in by us, gradually growing and consolidated until there was a clear question of great importance.

While on the one hand our own people were making a break, on the other hand our own people were making a break. While on the one hand our own people were making a break, on the other hand our own people were making a break.

Not one of the practical advantages of yielding to American demands was gained. While on the one hand our own people were making a break, on the other hand our own people were making a break.

When the Lusitania was sunk the United States was not at war with the United States. We regarded it as our right. I telegraphed to headquarters from Berlin where I had received the news that a course would have greatly retarded our progress.

On May 12 the cabinet chief wrote me that the Emperor agreed with me. I regarded it as our right. I telegraphed to headquarters from Berlin where I had received the news that a course would have greatly retarded our progress.

Germany's Blunders Blamed for Baltic Blockade

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The opinion in the National Assembly circles is that the Baltic situation arose out of the weakness of the German government.

It was expressed that the government had blundered through incompetence and that rather than to show its independence it had only proved against the blockade on the Baltic. It was pointed out that the government had blundered through incompetence and that rather than to show its independence it had only proved against the blockade on the Baltic.

not more U-boats for merchant ships until attention is cleared.

August 20, 1918.—Ordered until further notice not even to sink small passenger vessels without warning and rescue of crew.

THREATENED TO RESIGN.
September 1, 1918.—Commander of the fleet telegraphed to Emperor that above order cannot be carried out without without risk to U-boats, a risk he could not undertake and therefore, tendered resignation. Healy from Cabinet Chief says that his Majesty has tolerated no objections to Imperial orders on the part of the commander of the fleet.

September 18, 1918.—Practical cessation of U-boat warfare. If we consider these orders and counter-orders together with the fact that they were with the greatest difficulty transmitted to the U-boats, we can estimate how bitter the situation must have been to them.

Their own inclination, the standpoint of their commanders and probably also of their immediate superiors all urged them on to action. Yet they were not to be deterred. They confronted the brave U-boat commander with the most difficult situation of his life.

How differently England has always acted in similar circumstances. For hundreds of years her principle has been to defend, at least to the outside world, any action of a British naval officer, provided it was energetic.

$50,000 VOICE OF SCORN OF OPERA

"Ratther Sell and Wood at $50 Per." Pipes "Con-necticut Caruso"

Meriden, Ct., Oct. 15.—"Blinking all right as a profession for women, but I think a man should go in for a more substantial job."

This was the declaration today of the "Connecticut Caruso," Anthony P. Fontelli, who professes to sell coal and wool for a living even though it frequently involves delivering big wares personally when help is short.

Using his remarkable lyric tenor voice, which experts have declared could easily bring him $50,000 a year for the winning of fame and fortune.

His sister, Rosa Fontelli, mezzo soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, has in such scrapes as her brother and earns $10,000 a year, whereas the "Connecticut Caruso" is content with $50.

His sister has frequently arisen in vain to induce Tony to take his voice to the opera house, but he is intransigent. He is in much demand locally and responds willingly, but declines to sing for money.

OFFICIAL ENDING OF WAR COMES TOMORROW

Stage All Set in Paris; Await Arrival of Italian Representative

Paris, Oct. 15.—The official ceremony of "ending the war" will take place probably on Thursday. Signor Tittoni, the Italian foreign minister, is due here today, bringing with him the copy of the treaty signed by King Victor Emmanuel. The copies signed by King George, President Poincaré and the President of Germany already have been deposited with the French foreign office.

The Hungarian peace treaty is now completed. The peace conference is waiting, however, until a stable government is established at Budapest before presenting it.

Efforts to "bury" any Hungarian affairs were opposed by the American peace delegates. It was suggested that a new note be sent to Budapest, inquiring after the stability of the present government, but the Americans also said this. The proposal, it was learned, emanated from the British.

The peace council today considered matters arising from the German treaty. Many details are being raised again by the permanent commissions thus saving the peace conference time.

Contrary to reports, the American peace delegates deny they are in a hurry. They said the time had arrived for the work of the conference. It was pointed out that on even such an important question as the Adriatic dispute, the President's views are so well known to Under Secretary of State B. H. Wood, and his instructions were so specific, that any new proposals the Italians may advance will not need any further reference to President Wilson. It is doubtful if the Americans will seriously consider a renewal of the negotiations, even if fresh proposals are brought by Foreign Minister Tittoni, unless the Italian rejects leave France.

DRILLING ON CAMPUS

The Boston University R. O. T. C. is drilling on the grounds adjacent to the College of Business Administration, the nearest thing to a real State Park.

As a result of the police station the use of Boston Common for drilling the R. O. T. C. corps of cadets is impossible. It is hoped that after the State Guard is disbanded from the South Army that Boston University men can have the use of the place.

MAYOR WRECKS AUTO RUSHING TO DYING MAN

Medford Executive Explains Reason for Borrowing Police Department's Machine

MAYOR BENJAMIN F. HAINES of Medford has explained the working of the new police touring car in a letter to the Board of Aldermen. The automobile was badly damaged while being driven by the mayor at 2 a. m. Sunday.

A hurry call to the bedside of his dying grandfather in Weyland, said the mayor, made it necessary for him to get an automobile without delay. His own car at that time was undergoing repairs. He borrowed the police automobile and, while en route to Weyland, found it necessary to wreck the machine to avoid a more serious accident.

The car is now in a service station at Cambridge. The mayor promises the aldermen that if it is not as good as new after repairs he will purchase a new car of the same make. In the meantime he has turned his own car over to the use of the department.

The explanation was referred to the committee on police. Members of the committee said today that it was probable police officials will be called upon to explain how the car intended solely for police work was loaned.

French Hotel Charges U. S. $45,000 for Overpaying Help

By International News Service.

London, Oct. 15.—Now that the American peace delegation is winding up its activities in Paris, it has been confronted with a bill by the proprietor of the Hotel Crillon, American peace headquarters, according to a report reaching London.

Over and above the post agreed upon when the hotel was requisitioned for the housing of the American plenipotentiaries and their staff, the following charges were included in the bill:

Rate of clientele, $30,000.
Demoralization of staff by having accommodated them to receiving wages above the ordinary standard, $15,000.

To these demands the American peace delegation has not replied directly, but they in their turn sent a bill to the proprietor of the Hotel Crillon, the main item of which is:

Advertisement of hotel by making it American headquarters, $50,000.

Improvement of staff by teaching them American methods of work, $45,000.

So far the hotel proprietor has not found a reply to this counter from the Yankees.

Don't Pamper Your Stomach

Fear of Dyspepsia Robs the Entire System of Necessary Nutrients, Eat a Diversified Meal and With Sturtevant's Tablets You Will Avoid the Distress of Indigestion.

Just because the stomach is the seat of digestion, heartburn, water brash and such distressing ailments are not good reasons for depriving the system of nutriment.

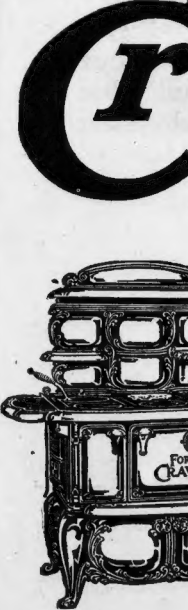

Instead of indigestible and injurious bread and skim milk try the best of food, eat a diversified meal, keep the stomach active, and you will avoid the distress of indigestion. It is necessary to eat a diversified meal, not only to keep the stomach active, but to give the system the nutriment it needs. You may eat rice and baked beans, or other dishes, such as the average dyspeptic takes. There is thus no need to fear any kind of food at any time or place. For with these tablets, you may procure the nutriment that properly made your stomach is unable to get from your food.

Lift off Corns!

Don't hurt a bit and Frezono costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Frezono" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, and you know you lift that bothersome corn or the right cut, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly no humbug!

TAKES CRIMSON TO TASK UPON LIQUOR

Harvard Paper's Editorial About W. C. T. U. Attitude Criticized by Archie Moore

Archie Moore, graduate student at Harvard, has raised an issue with the Harvard Crimson for sympathy with liquor and smoking, as well as for an attack made recently on the W. C. T. U. in this connection.

Moore writes to the Crimson, declaring:

"Your editorial of October 11, regarding the stand of the W. C. T. U. as to tobacco, and another on the subject of alcoholic conviviality which appeared in almost your first issue this fall, have aroused my curiosity."

Does the Crimson stand officially and solidly for John Harvard and for the Notorious West?

"There seems to be somewhat of an alcoholic tradition around here, at least, of Harvard student life, and the Crimson editorial establishes that tradition in print."

"But what is the meaning of the recent nation-wide movement for constitutional prohibition? Is personal liberty to poison one's self by slow degrees recognized by either the law of the nation or public opinion? Is a man at liberty to use solutions of lead and other poisons as beverages? Should attractive solutions of alcohol, a slower but no less genuine poison, be sold and consumed, and dignified by custom and tradition as promoting good fellowship? Why in the name of common sense should we not drink laudanum, nitro-vitriol, dilute sulphuric acid and other such beverages if we insist on having wine, beer, whiskey, brandy and gin? The acknowledged poison would merely hasten the result by a few years."

"Per my part, I hope the American public will finally realize that both booze and tobacco are deplorable poisons, and that it would be better off without them."

MRS. DAISY E. GOHN, Philadelphia woman, who is suing Louis H. Regnier for $25,000, alleging that he refused to marry her after having loved her most ardently.

REGNIER TOLD BURNING LOVE BY MAIL

Pittsfield, Oct. 15.—Ardent protestations of love were contained in letters read to a jury here in the trial of the $25,000 breach of promise suit brought by Mrs. Daisy E. Gohn of Philadelphia against Louis H. Regnier, formerly a Lehigh merchant and now buyer for a large Akron, O., department store.

The correspondence alleged to have passed between the couple took place between August 1917, and the Spring of 1918, when Regnier's love for Gohn is said to have cooled.

The day closed with the totals as follows:

New York $1,100,000
Subtotal $2,300,000

At supplementary committee are being informed to advance the work in Boston, it is expected that the local total will soon reach and exceed the three million mark.

Giving Sugar Away at One Cambridge Grocery

While patrons of Boston grocery and provision stores are having a hard time getting sugar, a Cambridge grocery is giving it away.

The grocery, which advertises the fact that it is run by three daughters, advertises that it will give a pound of sugar free with every purchase of other goods to the value of $1.00 or more.

And meanwhile practically every other grocery dealer in Greater Boston is not only charging all the late fall prices for sugar, but is demanding its scarcity.

A reader of the American drew the attention of this paper to this unusual state of affairs, enclosing a circular of the free-sugar grocery with a note of sugar and the stores repeating the same over and over again. "No sugar! No sugar! No sugar!" I am including a circular of grocery and provision stores giving free one pound of sugar. Which makes him wonder why, if one store can give it away, the rest of the stores can't get any to sell.

The company alleges the respondents on October 4 and 5 violated an injunction issued by the court by interfering with the business of the petitioner by means of a strike.

PRESIDENT WILL RECEIVE KING AND QUEEN

Despite His Illness, Wilson is Expected to at Least Greet Them October 24

Washington, Oct. 15.—Despite the illness of President Wilson and the many dominating matters of his administration, it was learned authoritatively today that no change has been made in the official plan to entertain the king and queen of Belgium at the White House upon their arrival in Washington.

The royal party is due to arrive here October 24. Whether the President will be able personally to meet them, his guests and guests at and for them while in Washington is still a matter for his physicians to determine. They are going steadily to improve, but plans for their entertainment are being steadily advanced. In almost daily conferences between Herbert Hoover, Louis Brandeis, Secretary of State, who has charge of the details of the visit, and Mrs. Woodhull, special secretary of the White House.

Plans for the visit of the Prince of Wales are unchanged, and while no definite date for his arrival has been announced, it is expected that he will be here about the first of next month.

The Cause of the Present Reckless Fashions in Women's Dress

Professor Allen Bennett, of the Columbia University faculty, explains that the present daring fashions in women's dress are due to a real necessity. The Great War killed off so many marriageable men that women are obliged to lure to the limit if they expect to marry. Read this interesting disclosure of social conditions in next Sunday's

FOUND BUT ONE BATHTUB IN ALL FRANCE

Mary Young of Arlington Theatre Claims Rights to Its Discovery

Rights to the discovery of the only bathtub in France was claimed by Mary Young, of the Craig Players, in a talk given by her at the Arlington Theatre on the subject of her experience as a war actress "over there."

It was at Gondricourt," said Miss Young, "that we came across this almost unknown article of furniture. And a most elaborate outfit it was to take a bath being the better part of a day's work."

"BABY MINE" A HAPPY CHOICE

"When Mr. Craig and I were informed that the services of our company were wanted," she said, "we immediately began packing our brains for a suitable play for the American soldier just out of the trenches, needing the utmost in relaxation. Our choice was 'Baby Mine,' and a mighty good choice it proved to be."

Miss Craig went on to describe their troubles, beginning at the first rehearsal in Paris, which took place in the midst of one of the worst of the air raids, and ending at an outdoor performance at the front, where the humming of machine gun bullets reminded the audience that the war was still in progress.

ARMY BLANKETS AS "PROPS"

"The problem of scenery was not a simple one by any means," she said. "Often our only stage effects consisted of brown army blankets loaned to us by the men. I remember one incident particularly in the play where I threw myself on a lounge which was covered with one of these blankets. A great deal of discussion was argued in the audience as to how it belonged. Let me say, however, that I only made the acquaintance of one 'cougar' during our entire trip."

The attitude of the Y. M. C. A. was not entirely cordial to the actors, according to Miss Young. "We were practically never invited to their messes," she said. "Consequently we tried to arrive after meal-time whenever possible."

MOCK WEDDING IN PENN.

THE FLORIST'S WINDOW
A mock wedding under the auspices of Mrs. Mahet Lyman is being performed daily in the window of the Florist, No. 124 Tremont street. Hundreds crowded the sidewalk to see the four-year-old "bride" and the eight-year-old "groom" march to the altar. Both principals were girls, Margaret Verna Burr as the bride, and Mary Harr, acting as the bridegroom. Verna Burr is the School of Stage Children of New England.

After the ceremony the "bridegroom" showed his devotion to the "bride" by kissing and hugging her much to the delight of the throngs in the street. The window was beautifully decorated with lilies-of-the-valley, Opuntia, roses, chrysanthemums, crotons and other varieties. The "bride" wore a wedding gown and carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley.

This "ceremony" will be repeated every afternoon this week.

Bernstorff Is Given Access to German Foreign Records

By Internal Service.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The Cabinet has given Count Johann Bernstorff, former ambassador in the United States, permission to avail himself of the German foreign office records, especially his dispatches from Washington, in writing his book, which promises to be one of the most interesting contributions to the history of the war.

The permission thus granted is unusual for the German government, and it is due to the fact that Bernstorff left all his records in the German embassy in Washington when he departed.

He could not on his short lecture tour of last year. He is coming to Boston under the auspices of the New England Division of the American Committee for Devastated France, and will speak on reconstruction.

Now economize on an overcoat

YOU'LL have to pay a pretty good price for an overcoat this fall. Better not try to "beat the market;" prices for overcoats are all about alike; but all overcoats are not.

Just remember that the economy is in the overcoat that you get, not in the price. Get all-wool fabrics, good tailoring, fine linings, good style, and you'll save money. Our clothes are made that way; guaranteed to satisfy you; money back if they don't.

Go to the clothing store where our goods are sold; you'll get full value for your money; the fine quality that economizes for you.

The stylish ideas in overcoats

The big, roomy, ulster-like coats are popular—particularly the double-breasted models; they have big adjustable collars, some of fur; they have belts, big warm pockets; many of them are made of the new, warm, fleecy, Winter-moor fabrics.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

The quality in every Hart Schaffner & Marx overcoat we have here is as high as the price. Satisfaction guaranteed

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination—the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of the waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes—let them be interrupted or incompletely carried on and sickness of some kind follows.

Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism—due to some interference with the process of eliminating waste—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any rheumatic person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body?

Think of this: It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR) Tablets in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for uncertain relief? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR) Tablets, containing enough to last twelve days, gives you prompt relief and satisfaction. Just the cost of your medicine.

And Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones up the system, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the whole system. You'll feel like a new person when you've taken a box of Nature's Remedy (NR) Tablets for a week. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Nature's Remedy (NR) Tablets are sold everywhere and recommended by your druggist.

FINDS MEDFORD DOES NOT OWN SCHOOL SITE

Construction work on the Putnam Heights school at Medford has started, but the city does not own the site on which the foundations are being laid. This was revealed by John J. Mulken, president of the Board of Aldermen, at a meeting of that body. Mayor Haines had asked authority to take the site by right of eminent domain, but A. Chesley York, city assessor, in an opinion delivered to the aldermen, declared the Mayor could have no such right. Meantime the contractor is proceeding with construction. An appropriation of $2,000 was made for the site, building and equipment. Contracts for construction, plumbing, heat and electric wiring already list amount to $55,000. The aldermen are now seeking a way to provide for equipment which it is estimated will cost about $8,000, and also a way to buy the site.

TURKS' CRUELTY DEPICTED IN PHOTOPLAY

"Auction of Souls," Stirring Film of Oppression, Shown at Waldorf Theatre

The new one's mother killed, and her brother and sister wanted to murder—have a sword placed in their hands with orders to slay one another and then—these are the scenes that make up the picture "The Auction of Souls," which is being shown at the Waldorf Theatre this week, where the picture of her life called "The Auction of Souls" is being shown.

Miss Mardigianian appears in person at each performance, and in her broken but perfectly intelligible English, tells of the truth of the picture. It is, however, at the special morning performance for women only that her heart is really unburdened.

It all happened several years ago when she was barely seventeen. In

The morning, Aurora has learned to hope again, even to smile. But the dream is still there.

"There are things in my heart that I can never tell," she says. "In my heart is something like a black bag, full of these memories, and fate of the future."

A gentle girl in appearance, slight and pale, but her eyes become hard when she recalls the wrongs inflicted upon her people. There is only one thing that would ease that pain.

"If I could only tell you," she says, "that would not help the past, but it would give relief for the pain."

"If I could kill a Turk," she exclaimed. "I am a Christian, too, but how can I help feeling this hate and this longing for vengeance, when I have my memories? There are things I will never tell in my heart as long as I live."

Miss Mardigianian's mother was whipped to death, and her two little brothers killed before her eyes. The story of her own subsequent escape makes an engrossing finale to a story of horror and oppression.

Barber Gives Recipe for Gray Hair

Mr. A. F. Brown, who has been a barber in New York city for many years, made the following statement: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be renewed naturally with a few drops of my hair oil. It will make a gray head young again, and you can make it look like a young man's."

It is safe, does not rub off, is not sticky or greasy and leaves the hair soft. It will make a gray head young again, and you can make it look like a young man's."
